Major Changes

I'm starting to work on a new project.

What I have accomplished so far

I have done extensive literature review, and have understood the data set. I am in the process of cleaning data, building relevant data structure and basic model for outcome of interest.

Meeting my milestone

As I have finished literature review, I plan to finish the prototype of this project 2 weeks from now.

Surprises

There is no major surprise, except for it's my first time seeing the raw data in its not perfectly structured form and am undertaking the cleaning and selection process.

Looking Ahead

I hope to finish cleaning the data as soon as possible and build the basic model in the coming week.

Revisions to my milestones

There is no revision to my milestones.

Resources needed

I have all the resources that I need.
